Key Criteria

These classes will be judged on the rider's position, effectiveness of aids, and ability to adjust to the course, rather than the horse's jumping ability or confirmation. Judges assess the rider's position, including their seat, legs, and hands, as well as their communication with the horse through their aids. The focus is on the rider's skill in navigating the course smoothly and efficiently, making accurate adjustments, and maintaining a secure and balanced position throughout.

Position and Posture

Riders should maintain a balanced, secure position, keeping their heels down, legs steady, and hands quiet and in line with the horse's mouth.

Effectiveness of Aids

Riders must use their aids (legs, seat, hands) effectively to communicate with the horse and guide it through the course, making adjustments as needed.

Rhythm, Smoothness and Flow

A good equitation round should be smooth and flowing, with minimal noticeable effort from the rider.

Overall Impression

Judges also consider the rider's overall presentation and how well they handle any unexpected situations or challenges that may arise.

Video Tips and Tricks You will need a friend or parent to film your test for you. Ask them to follow these instructions to ensure your test can be judged online.

Video Version

1. Filming Position
 - a. Film from behind the judge's position at the C marker, outside the arena
 - b. If it's a sunny day, try to ensure the sun is behind the camera
 - c. If you can, mount the device on a tripod to keep it steady
2. Technique
 - a. If filming on a smartphone, hold the device in landscape orientation
 - b. Start filming a short time before the rider enters at A, e.g. as the rider passes the E or B marker
 - c. Keep the horse and rider in the center of the frame
 - d. Sound must be recorded.
3. Zooming

- a. Avoid excessive zooming in and out - the judge will need to see the part of the arena the competitor is in and the whole horse and rider clearly
- b. Some zooming is necessary when the horse and rider are at the far end of the arena
- 4. Framing
 - a. The horse and rider should fill about half of the vertical space in the frame whenever possible.
